Arcadia 333 Late Harvest - Botrytis Cinerea Sauvignon Blanc

Botrytis Cinerea that is known as 'gray rot' in vineyards transforms to a natural gift called 'Noble Rot' under proper circumstances. To obtain this special wine; we squeeze the grapes that has a jammy, intense nectar thanks to Botrytis. The most famous wines that are done by this method are those produced in Sauterne- Bordeaux. The only one example of the method is Arcadia Late Harvest 333 in Turkey. Also, these wines are suited to aging.
